COMING CHANGE OF PASTORS.

Back to His Native State-Success ful Mission Services-Bishop Randolph's Visit-A Town Laid Off-A Minister Robbed.

ONANCOCK, VA., November 16 .- (Special.)-It is reported that many changes vill be made in pastors of the Southern Methodist churches on the Eastern Shore of Virginia and Maryland by the Virginia conference now in session in Richmond.
Some of these pastors have served out their full term of four years, and others will ask to be transferred from their present charges. Members of all religious denominations in Onancock earnestly desire to see the Rev. Dr. George E. Booker returned to his pulpit here, and deep regret is felt at Accomac Court-house that Rev. W. F. Hayes will not return there. Rev. William Chinn, who has just accepted a call to the Presbyterian church in Suffolk, Va., was for ten years pastor of the Presbyterian churches in Accomac of the Presbyterian churches in Accomac, going from here to Rockville, Md. He is an excellent preacher, and a gentieman of fine social qualities. He is in the prime of life, and the Presbyterians of Suffolk, are to be congratulated on their good fortune in securing him. While he was in Accomac his influence, especially among the young men, was widespread and most ennobling. All who know him will give him a warm welcome back to his native Virginia, that he loves so well. MISSION SERVICE.

MISSION SERVICE.

During the past two weeks mission services have been held in three of the Episcopal churches in this county. Last week, the Rev. Mr. Mayo, formerly of Newport News, but now of Gaithersburg, Md., assisted the Rev. Mr. Derby in a mission in old St. George's church, at Pungoteague, in Southern Accomac, and Rev. Frank Ribbie, now of Newport News, assisted Rev. H. S. Simmerman in a mission at Emmanuel church, near Jenkens's Bridge, in Northern Accomac. During the week now about to close, Rev. R. S. Coupland, of Norfolk, has assisted Mr. Derby in mission services in Hely Trinity church, of Onancock. These services have been attended by good congregations, even when the weather was stormy. Mr. Coupland, beginning on last Tuesday, preached twice every day, and his sermons have been of a high order of excellence. He is only about 23 years old, becker wears the property of Tuesday, preached twice to this sermons have been of a high order of excellence. He is only about 23 years old, having been graduated from the Virginia Theological Seminary about sixteen months ago. He is at present assistant to Rev. Arthur S. Liowd, rector of St. Luke's church, in Norfolk. He is a young man of very attractive personality, and of remarkable intellectual endowments. All who heard him here unite in pronouncing him one of the rising young ministers of the country.

Bishop Randolph will make his annual visitation to the Episcopal churches on the Eastern Shore, just before or immediately after the Christmas holidays.

Bishop Randolph will make his annual visitation to the Episcopal churches on the Eastern Shore, just before or immediately after the Christmas holidays.

A TOWN LAID OUT.

Captain John Marsh, who owns the two famous old estates of Clifton and Fort George, on Chesconnessex creek, formerly belonging to the Wises, has recently had a town laid out near the mouth of the creek, and has given it the name of River View. It commands a fine prospect of the Chesapeake bay, and is a most desirable place for fishermen and oystermen to form a settlement. He has already sold a number of lots, and it is thought that in a few years a thriving fittle town will grow up there. It is about four or five miles northwest from Onancock.

The processioners in the Courthouse District, with the aid of County-Surveyor White. have recently determined the boundaries of the public property of the county at Accomac Courthouse, and marked the limits thereof by setting up granite blocks at the four corners; and the supervisors of the county have passed an order directing all the surveyors of public highways to see that no persons encroach upon the same by fences or buildings, and also to see that no persons shall obstruct the drains along the public highways. public highways.

The sad news was received here to-day of the death of little Arthur Saunders, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthus Saunders, of Eastville, Northampton county. Mrs. Saunders was formerly Miss Bessie Kelley, of Onancock, and she and her husband have many warm friends here to sympathize with them in their afflic-

THE OPEN SEASON.

The open season for hunters on the Eastern Shore of Virginia began yesterday, and the woods and fields are full of sportsmen in pursuit of poor "Bob White," who for the past three winters has had a hard time of it in these parts. Hundreds of sportsmen come to this section from eastern clies, and the slaughter tion from eastern cities, and the slaughter of these beautiful and harmless birds goes on by the wholesale. The Eastern Shore Association has, however, taken steps Association has appointed a number of special policemen to see that the game laws are not violated either by residents or aliens, and all who are caught violating the law will be punished without fear

CADETS AND ROANOKE COLLEGE. Former Win.

LEXINGTON, VA., November 16.— (Special.)—The Roanoke College foot-ball team of Salem, Va., met the invincible Virginia-Military-Institute team on the institute grounds here this afternoon, and the cadets won their fifth consecutive victory, by a score of 25 to 0. The visitors put up the best game played by any team who have met the cadets so far this season. Their line was heavy, and many brilliant rushes were made by

The game was called at 2.15 o'clock. The cadets kicked off to the college 10-yard line, and the college gained by rushes until the ball was lost by a fumyand line, and the college gained by a fumble, and immediately regained by a fumble. The college lost on downs. The cadets' half-backs and tackles made fine gains until the lo-yard line of the college was reached, when the ball was lost on downs. The college kicked out, and the cadets then rushed Lawson across the line for the first touch-down. Twiggs kicked goal. Time. 14 minutes.

On the kick-off by the college, the cadets immediately fumbled the ball, and lost on a foul-tackle, but regained on a fumble. A. W. Moore was zent over the line for a second touch-down. Goal was missed. The college kicked off to the cadet 10-yard-line. The cadets cirpled ends for large gains, and Stephens made a star run of forty-fiveness, and a louch-down. Goal was missed. During the rest of the half the ball changed hands on downs repeatedly, and when time was called the ball was on the college 10-yard line.

on the college 10-yard line.

SECOND HALF.

The college kicked off to the cadet 15-yard line. The cadets sent half-backs through the line for large gains. Stephens pushed over the line for a touch-down. Twiggs kicked goal. On the next kick-off the cadets made gains of five, seven, and fifteen yards by rushing tactics, until the college 15-yard line was gained, when the ball went over to the college on downs. The college rushed the ball to the centre of the griditon, and on a side-kick Rose fell on the ball for the cadets, and Lawson was rushed over for the last touch-down. Twiggs kicked goal.

For the visitors, Duke's headlong rushes and tackling; and Miller, W. Jones, and McIntire's tackling were the star features. Stephens, Lawson, Rose, Michell, and A. W. Moore set the pace for the cadets, but the whole team was in the fight from start to finish, and played a steady and and heavy game, and one which was not to be beaten.

Time by halves, 25 and 18 minutes, Washington and Lee play the visitors on Monday on the University Athletic-Grounds. SECOND HALF.

(Special.)—The foot-ball game to-day between the University of North Carolina and the Agricultural and Mechanical College, of Virginia, resulted in a defeat for the latter team by a score of 32 to 5. The North Carolina men were heavier, and played with a vim. while the Virginians appeared a trifle loose in team work. At times the game was intensely exciting, but as a whole, it was devoid of special interest. The weather was fine and attendance fair.

ATLANTA, GA., November 16.-The game between Vanderbilt University and the University of Virginia resulted in favor of Virginia, by the score of 6 to 4. In the first half Virginia, by fine bucking and interference, made a touch-down, an easy goal being kicked by Davis. Vanderbilt held Virginia back in splendid style, and made several runs. This half showed that Vanderbilt would play a steady, scientific game, although Virginia was inclined to take unfair advantage at times. Connell, Vanderbilt's full-back, and star player, was badly hurt, but he continued in the game.

The second half opened with Vander-bilt in defence of the up-hill goal. In four minutes, by very fine interference, Connell was enabled to make a touchdown. This was done by a remarkable run of seventy yards, and in the midst of great excitement. The left guard falled to kick a goal. After this run, Connell could scarcely remain in the game, but his wonderful pluck displayed game, but his wonderful pluck uspan, itself, and he kept on. Vanderblit clear-ly outplayed Virginia in this half. Con-ner, Vanderblit's quarter-back, made a net. Vanderblit's quarter-back, made a fine run of thirty yards, by a quick pass and clever interference. The game end-ed with the ball on Virginia's 45-yard line, and in Vanderbilt's possession. It looked as though a few minutes more would give Vanderbilt a touch-down.
